

The College of Education at Oklahoma State University is searching for a few good teachers who are interested in fulltime, doctoral studies in science or mathematics education.

OPPORTUNITY: Join a group of enthusiastic faculty members in science and mathematics education to complete a Ph.D. in Professional Education Studies with an Emphasis in Mathematics and Science. Gain experiences such as teaching science or mathematics methods courses; assisting with funded research focused on teacher professional development and improved K-12 student learning in STEM; supervising elementary or secondary science student teachers; and leading professional student organizations.

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS: Three or more years of K-12 classroom teaching experience and a Master's Degree (evidence of professional service and effective teaching preferred). Female and American Indian candidates are encouraged to apply.

SUPPORT: We have 4-7 positions available. Benefits will include an annual salary of $25,000, tuition remission for 12 graduate credits (each year), and potential eligibility for an additional $5,000 Top Tier Scholarship (each year).

DETAILS: Oklahoma State University, a comprehensive, land-grant institution of higher education with an enrollment of more than 21,000 students, is located in Stillwater (pop. 42,000). The University offers 91 programs of study leading to a bachelor's degree, 70 master's programs and 46 doctoral programs. The College of Education is centrally located on OSU's scenic campus. Our newly-refurbished, state-of-the-art facility provides contemporary offices, classrooms, laboratories, and a distance learning center. Stillwater is approximately 65 miles distant from both the Tulsa and Oklahoma City metropolitan areas.
